Project Title: Kodak

I'd like to build this project as a multi-paged site with a call to action elements linking them together. Additionally, there should be a fixed-size navigation bar helping users to navigate through these pages.

- Home Page - A brief introduction for the Eastman Kodak Company that'll set up the rest of the website.

- History & TimeLine - A general overview of the company's history according to Wikipedia, particularly focusing on the beginning strategy, rivalry with Fujifilm, shift to digital, and bankruptcy.

- Notable Products & Services - This page should highlight the notable Kodak products (different lines of Kodak film) & services that have significantly impacted the company's development and the public.

- People - This page should provide detailed information about the people who have made a significant contribution to the company or the industry, especially someone like American photographer Jeannette Klute who introduced the possibilities of color photography and paved the way for female photographers.

- Current & Future- This page should discuss Kodak's shift to drug production with help of $765 Million U.S. Loan.

- Sources - Listing all references, including the Wikipedia page along with any other attribution like photography credits.
